ENTREPRENEURS from primary schools across Gwynedd will head to Cardiff and test their business acumen against the country's finest.

Pupils from Ysgol Abererch, Ysgol Pont y Gôf in Botwnnog and Ysgol y Garreg in Llanfrothen have all succeeded in the local rounds of an Enterprise Troopers competition, which is part of the Welsh Government's Youth Entrepreneurship programme.

Pupils at Ysgol Abererch came up with the idea of turning left-over milk into a thriving smoothie business, created 'Smw-fi' after their school caretaker asked them to devise a use for milk left over at the end of a school week.

Annwen Hughes, head teacher at Ysgol Abererch, said: "The pupils have been really inspired by the project. It grabbed them from the start and they absolutely love it."

"The children involved are only five but it's amazing how much they've learned about business; they can even explain how to make a profit."

Ysgol Abererch won the Foundation Phase award at the regional final in Llandudno.

Ysgol Pont y Gôf and Ysgol y Garreg won Key Stage Two awards for their business ideas, while Ysgol Pont y Gôf also collected a special Environmental Award.

A group of year three pupils from Ysgol Pont y Gôf started making and selling their own Jam, called Cegin y Gôf, while Ellie Gwen Williams, a pupil at Ysgol Y Garreg also received the Star Trooper Award for her efforts.

Now the three schools will go head to head with others from across Wales in a bid to become the national winners of Enterprise Troopers at a grand final at the Senedd in Cardiff, to be held on 25 March.
